PHI BETA KAPPA

AT WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE.

The Phi Beta Kappa Society was first organized at William and Mary College, December 5, 1776. John Heath, a student, from Northumberland county, Va., afterwards distinguished for his public services, was the first president. Richard Booker, of Amelia county, was first treasurer, and Thomas Smith, of Gloucester county, was first clerk or secretary. A medal for use and rules for government were promptly adopted. The society continued in active operation till Saturday, the 6th of January, 1781. Three days before this date, the British fleet, bearing Benedict Arnold and his forces, had arrived opposite Jamestown. With invasion at the door, the members of the society who still remained at the college met, and "thinking it most advisable that the records should not be removed, determined to deliver them sealed into the hands of the college steward until the desirable event of the society's resurrection." It is presumable that the records were delivered as resolved. In 1783 one of the members—Landon Cabell, present at the meeting on January 6, 1781—returned to college, and to him the steward of the college probably surrendered them. At any rate they are next found in the hands of his son, Dr. Robert H. Cabell, who, on December 14, 1848, delivered them into the keeping of the Virginia Historical Society. (Virginia Historical Register, Vol. II, p. 52.) At the annual meeting of this body in December, 1895, Col. William Lamb, president of the chapter revived at the college, made application for their return. The application was unanimously granted.

The history of the society at William and Mary College after its suspension in 1781 is a chequered one. While Elisha Parmelee carried the organization to Yale and to Harvard, whence it spread over the North, no apparent attempt was made for its restoration at William and Mary till 1849. Then an interest was aroused in the subject, and it was discovered that one of the old members, William Short, originally of Surry county, Va., and in the interval distinguished as minister of the United States at the courts of France, Holland, and Spain, was living in Philadelphia at the advanced age of ninety-one. It was a singular fact that he was president of the society when it was interrupted in 1781. Measures were taken to revive the society in the college, with Mr. Short as connecting link with the original society. This was done, and it was in operation till the war between the states in 1861, when the president of the college, professors and students rallied again to arms at the call of Virginia.

The college came out of the war with blackened walls and greatly diminished revenues. The walls erected in 1693 were once more built upon, and the college was again opened to students in 1867. But the Board of Visitors, after struggling along for several years, were finally forced to close the college in 1881. It remained closed till 1888, when the legislature, being appealed to, came to its assistance and made provision for an annual appropriation. Succeeding this, Congress passed an act to pay the college $65,000 by way of indemnity for damages done during the war.

In 1893 the college, restored to new hopes and having an attendance of students greater than at any other time in its history, celebrated its two hundredth anniversary. Among the features of this memorable occasion was the revival of the Phi Beta Kappa Society—a result mainly due to the active endeavors of Col. William Lamb, of the Board of Visitors. The revival was effected under the auspices of Col. Benjamin S. Ewell, the venerable President Emeritus, one of the members initiated at the revival of 1849.

EXTRACTS FROM THE ORIGINAL PHI BETA KAPPA MINUTES WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE 1776-1781.

On Thursday, the 5th of December, in the year of our Lord God one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, and the first of the commonwealth, a happy spirit and resolution of attaining the important ends of society entering the minds of John Heath, Thomas Smith, Richard Booker, Armistead Smith, and John Jones, and afterwards seconded by others, prevailed, and was accordingly ratified.

And for the better establishment and sanctitude of our unanimity, a square silver medal was agreed on and instituted, engraved on one side with S. P., the initials of the Latin S—P—, and on the other, agreeable to the former, with the Greek initials of Φ B K, and an index imparting a philosophical design, extended to the three stars, a part of the planetary orb, distinguished.

THE SILVER Φ B K MEDAL OF 1776.

In consequence of this, on Wednesday, the 5th of January, 1777, a session was held in order both to adopt a mode of initiation and to provide for its better security.

And first in corporation, an oath of fidelity being considered as the strongest preservative, an initiation was accordingly resolved upon and instituted as follows:

I, A. B., do swear on the holy Evangelists of Almighty God, or otherwise, as calling the Supreme Being to attest this my oath, declaring that I will, with all my possible efforts, endeavor to prove true, just, and deeply attached to this our growing fraternity; in keeping, holding, and preserving all secrets that pertain to my duty, and for the promotion and advancement of its internal welfare.

March 1, 1777.

Resolved: 1. That in every design or attempt, whether great or small, we ought to invoke the Deity, by some private sacrifice or devotion, for a fraternal prosperity.

3. That every member, after being properly initiated, shall be obliged to furnish himself with a medal, wholly corresponding with those of the Fraternity.

6. That the non-attendance of any single member, unless by some certain obstructing inability, or cogent necessity, subjects him to the penalty of five shillings.

10. That for the encouragement of any new invention of arts and sciences, some premium be allowed from the public treasury.

11. That six members shall be the fewest sufficient for the execution of business.

16. That the President be invested with the prerogative of convening the members of this fraternity, when he shall deem it expedient.

18. That four members be selected to perform at every session, two of whom in matters of argumentation and the others in apposite composition.

22. That no member shall be expelled without the unanimous concurrence of the Society.

23. That every person, after being initiated, pay into the public treasury the sum of 6s.

August 22, 1778.

Resolved: That, as the price of initiation hitherto paid is inadequate to the purpose, it be augmented to five dollars.

May 4, 1779.

It being suggested that it might tend to promote the designs of this Institution and redound to the honor and advantage thereof at the same time, that others more remote or distant will be attached thereto.

Resolved: That leave be given to prepare the form or ordinance of a charter party, to be intrusted with such two or more brothers of the  $\Phi$  B K as to a general meeting shall, on due application for the same, be thought to merit such a trust; with delegated power in the plan and principles therein laid down, to constitute, establish, and initiate a fraternity correspondent to this, and that a committee be appointed of Mr. President, Mr. Stuart, and Mr. Beckley to prepare a draft of the same and report at next meeting.

June 27, 1779.

Resolved: That, as the price of initiation hitherto paid is inadequate to the purpose, it be augmented to ten dollars.

July 31, 1779.

Mr. Elijah Parmale is recommended as a worthy member of this Society, and on a ballot taken he is unanimously elected and initiated in due form.

December 4, 1779.

Petition of Mr. Parmale for a Charter Party to institute a branch of this Society at Cambridge, in Massachusetts, granted. To be called Επαγλον.

December 9, 1779.

Mr. President, leaving the chair, called Mr. Stuart to the same. The Clerk being absent, Mr. Brent is appointed pro tempore.

Whereas this Society is desirous that the  $\Phi$  B K should be extended to each of the United States;

Resolved: That a second charter be granted to our brother, Mr. Elisha Parmale, for establishing a meeting of the same in the college of New Haven, in Connecticut, to be of the same rank, to have the same power, and to enjoy the same privileges with that which he is empowered to fix in the University of Cambridge. To be called the Zeta.

An adjournment took place. W. SHORT, President.

1781. On Saturday, the 6th of January, a meeting of  $\Phi$  B K was called for the purpose of securing the papers of the Society during the confusion of the times, and the present dissolution which threatens the University.

The members who attended were William Short, Daniel C. Brent, Spencer Roane, Peyton Short, and Landon Cabell. They, thinking it most advisable that the papers should not be removed, determined to deliver them sealed into the hands of the College Steward, to remain with him until the desirable event of the Society's resurrection. And this deposit they make in the sure and certain hope that the Fraternity will one day rise to life everlasting and glory immortal.

The original records of the Phi Beta Kappa Society and brief personal sketches of the first fifty members were edited by President Lyon G. Tyler and published in the William and Mary College Quarterly, April, 1896.

The names are arranged and spelled, for the most part, as on the first page of the original records. Some names were spelled in various ways, as the spelling of names was not at that time well settled. The dates of initiations are taken from the minutes. The name of Mr. Turbeville does not appear on the list, and no mention is made of his initiation. This must have occurred before May 18, 1780, for on that date he asked for and was granted a charter for the establishment of a branch of the Society in Westmoreland County. Nor is mention made of the initiation of Bushrod Washington; but that it occurred on May 18, 1780, seems evident from the position of his name between those of John Marshall and Thomas Lee, who were initiated on that date. These fifty men are called our

Membership was at first confined to "Collegians who had attained the age of sixteen years, and from the grammar master upward." That is, scholars in the grammar or preparatory department were not eligible. At that time there were in the college two "philosophy schools," as they were called, that of natural philosophy, including mathematics, and that of moral philosophy, in which was taught rhetoric, the Belles-Letters, and moral and mental science. Members of these schools were termed students and wore the cap and gown, and from these our Phi Beta Kappa Fathers were first chosen. At the end of the second year it was "Resolved that in future admission to this Society be not confined to collegians." This was near the time when, under Jefferson's influence, the college was reorganized, the grammar department was discontinued, advanced courses were offered, and post-graduate work was encouraged. The institution took on university characteristics, and was so designated in the minutes of the last Phi Beta Kappa meeting. It thus became possible for men of riper years to study at William and Mary, and by this resolution membership in Phi Beta Kappa was opened to such advanced students. Thus it happened that Captains William Pierce and John Marshall of the Continental Army, and Elisha Parmele, former student at Yale and graduate of Harvard, became members of the organization.

The next step was to authorize branches of the Society in other towns of Virginia. This may possibly have been suggested by members who had left college and missed the cordial fellowship the Fraternity afforded. Had the plan been carried out it must have lowered the standard of membership, for the new branches could not have been composed of students. I will quote extracts from the records on this subject. On May 4, 1779, it being suggested that "it might tend to promote the designs of the institution and redound to the honor and advantage thereof at the same time, that others more remote or distant will be attached thereto. Resolved, that leave be given to prepare the form or Ordinance of a Charter party, to be intrusted with such two or more brothers of the  $\Phi\ B\ K$  as to a general meeting shall, on a due application for the same, be thought to merit such a trust; with delegated power in the plan and principles therein laid down to constitute, establish and initiate a fraternity correspondent to this, and that a committee be appointed of Mr. President [William Short], Mr. Stuart and Mr. Beckley to prepare a draught of the same and report at next meeting."

The report of this committee, which was not offered until July 5, was debated in committee of the whole by paragraphs, when it was "Resolved, that the Charter party do pass." Five days later the first charter, called the Bῆτα was voted to Samuel Hardy, who had been a member less than a year. The following day another, called the Γάμμα, was granted to William Stuart. Five weeks later Mr. Cabell was made the recipient of the third charter, "the meeting hereby established to be called the Δέλτα." Confidence in Mr. Stuart was of recent growth, for he had been a member of the Society just four months. And Mr. Cabell was even more quickly taken into confidence, for his membership had continued but two months when the charter was voted him.

All this was preliminary to the crucial act of the Society's existence, the granting of charters to Harvard and Yale. It was on July 31, 1779, that Elisha Parmele was elected and initiated. He was the only man not of Virginia to receive this honor at the hands of our Phi Beta Kappa Fathers. One of the first things he heard after entering the Society was the discussion that led to the granting of a charter to Mr. Cabell. Being a native of Massachusetts and expecting soon to return, we can readily conceive how the idea would be suggested of securing Charters for the institutions in which he had previously studied in New England. It was on December 4, 1779, the day on which the Society was completing its third year, that he asked for and was granted a "Charter party to institute a branch of this Society in Cambridge, in Massachusetts," "to be called the Εψιλον." The next evening, which happened to be a Sunday, some amendments to the Charter were proposed by the President "to introduce it properly and give it an extensive footing in the State of Massachusetts Bay." The minutes of the meeting held four days later read in part as follows:

"Whereas, This Society is desirous that the Φ B K should be extended to each of the United States.

"Resolved, That a second charter be granted to our brother, Mr. Elisha Parmele, for establishing a meeting of the same in the College of New Haven, in Connecticut, to be of the same Rank, to have the same Power, and to enjoy the same Privileges with that which he is empowered to fix in the University of Cambridge. To be called the Zeta."

Two additional Charters were granted shortly after. It seems, however, that none were actually used as authority for an organization except those given Mr. Parmele. If any of the Virginia branches were instituted they must soon have perished. In the charters given Mr. Parmele lay the hope of the Society. As a result of our study of this period of developing ideas as to the Society's future I would have you gather that in a little over a year from the time when ideas of expansion were first entertained seven charters were granted, and the way was opened for the Society to become a national institution. Some have thought that the recent practice of granting as high as ten charters during a triennium a rather bold innovation for so conservative an organization. That is a slight matter compared with the boldness of our Fathers who in one short year ventured to launch seven frail barks on the untried sea of Society expansion. Conservatism! They did not know the word! Their faith in the future was unbounded. And who can say that faith was not justified? Listen to a few sentences from that Charter then prepared with such care:*

“Whereas, It is repugnant to the liberal principles of Societies that they should be confined to any place, Men or description of Men, and as the same should be extended to the wise and virtuous of every degree and of every country;—we, the members, and brothers of the  $\Phi$  B K an institution founded on literary principles, being willing and desirous to propagate the same, have, at the instance of our good Brother, Elisha Parmele, of the University of Cambridge, in the State of Massachusetts Bay, and from the confidence we repose in the Integrity, Discretion and Good Conduct of our said Brother, unanimously agreed to give and delegate, and we do therefore by these, our present letters of Charter Party, give and delegate by unanimous consent to you, the said Elisha Parmele, the following Rights, Privileges, Authority and power. That is to say

“1st. That at the University of Cambridge you establish a Fraternity of  $\Phi$  B K to consist of not less than three persons of Honor, Probity and good demeanor, which shall be denominated the Alpha of Massachusetts Bay.”

Then follow provisions respecting the Foundation Meeting, the choosing of officers; the use of the Form of Initiation, the observance of the Laws, which were transmitted with the charter; the securing of a medal by each member, the use of the “token of Salutation,” and the obligation to maintain regular correspondence with the mother Alpha for which correspondence a secret code is provided. One paragraph is so important that I quote it entire:

“6thly. That you by this charter be invested with the privileges of the Meeting Alpha of Virginia in granting charters for the establishment of other Meetings anywhere within the State of Massachusetts Bay, which Meetings are to stand in the same relation to you that the Junior branches of the Meeting Αλφα stand in to the Meeting Αλφα here."

The charter closes as follows:

"13thly. That we do hereby ratify and confirm this Charter and all the Rights, Privileges, Authority and Power incident to the same upon you, the said Elisha Parmele; the members of the Alpha of Massachusetts Bay and their Successors forever, and confidently relying on the prudence and discretion of you, our Brother, secure the same with our Reputations and Fortunes. Witness our hands and the seal of the Society this the fourth day of December, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy-nine."

The following eighteen signatures appear on the Charter, being, I presume, those of all the active members at the time:

Wm. Short, Jun., Pres.	Thomas Hall.
Archibald Stuart, V.-Pres.	Samuel Hardy.
William Cabell, Treas.	John Brown.
John James Beckley, Secy.	Thomas William Ballendine.
Theoderick Fitzhugh.	Spencer Roane.
John Morrison.	William Stith.
John Allen.	Hartwell Cocke.
John Nivison.	Thomas Littleton Savage.
William Stuart.	John Page.

With two such "charter parties," Elisha Parmele, the only member of the original society not a resident of Virginia, returned to New England. At Yale, where he had spent two years as an undergraduate, he founded the Alpha of Connecticut, November 13, 1780. At Harvard, where he received his bachelor's degree in 1778, he established the Alpha of Massachusetts, September 5, 1781.

Through the consent of the Alpha of Massachusetts and the Alpha of Connecticut, the Alpha of New Hampshire was founded at Dartmouth College by Aaron Kinsman, a graduate of Dartmouth of the class of 1787, on August 20, 1787.

These three chapters remained the only representatives of Phi Beta Kappa from 1787 to 1817.

"When the Morgan craze against Free Masonry filled New England, the Harvard chapter yielded to the influence of John Quincy Adams, Judge Story and others and abandoned the oath of secrecy. Edward Everett was sent to a meeting of the Yale chapter to induce them to take similar action. It is recorded that He touchingly set forth that the students at Harvard had such conscientious scruples as to keep them from taking the oath of secrecy and the society life was thus endangered. There was stout opposition but the motion prevailed and the missionary returned to gladden the tender consciences of the Harvard boys. Dartmouth also joined the movement and the three chapters laid no emphasis on secrecy even if they did not give it up altogether."*

"This agitation together with other causes, resulted in an entire change in the character of Phi Beta Kappa. From a senior literary society it gradually became an organization of graduates. This change was hastened by the advent of the Greek Letter Fraternities, which, strangely enough, came into existence soon after the anti-secret agitation. By admitting underclassmen, they gained a strength with which Phi Beta Kappa could not cope. And as much to save herself as for any other reason, she began choosing the highest grade men from each class irrespective of their fraternity or non-fraternity affiliations. Hence it has come about that in most of the chapters meetings are confined to those for the election of members, and to the annual reunion at commencement."†

During what is known as the "Alpha Period," which extended for over one hundred years, each Alpha had the privilege of establishing other Chapters within its own State, while the consent of all the Alphas was necessary to extend the society to another State. This law was based on the charter of the Alpha of Massachusetts Bay, which gave "the privileges of the meeting Alpha in Virginia in granting charters for the establishment of other meetings anywhere within the State of Massachusetts Bay, which meetings are to stand in the same relation to you that the junior branches of this society stand in to the meeting Alpha here."

In 1817 an Alpha charter was granted Union, which established Chapters at the University of City of New York (Beta, 1858), College of the City of New York (Gamma, 1867), Columbia (Delta, 1869), Hamilton (Epsilon, 1870), Hobart, (Zeta, 1871), Colgate (Eta, 1878), Cornell (Theta, 1882).

The Alpha of Connecticut extended the society to Trinity (Beta, 1845) and Wesleyan (Gamma, 1845). The Alpha of Massachusetts established branches at Amherst (Beta, 1853) and Williams (Gamma, 1867). Alpha charters were granted Bowdoin in 1825, Brown in 1830, and Rutgers in 1869. The Alpha of Vermont, at University of Vermont, chartered in 1848, granted a charter to Middlebury (Beta, 1868). The Alpha of Ohio was established at Adelbert, 1848, and chartered the Chapters at Kenyon (Beta, 1858) and Marietta (Gamma, 1860).

With the establishment of chapters in so many institutions and States, the unity of the Fraternity was largely lost. And until the year 1881 no serious effort was made to unite the widely separate branches.

At the annual meeting of the Alpha of Massachusetts in 1880 a committee of five members, of which Rev. Edward Everett Hale was chairman, was appointed to arrange for a convention of all the chapters of the Fraternity to be held in Cambridge the day after commencement in 1881. This was to be in commemoration of the centennial of the Harvard Chapter. The Committee issued invitations to the different chapters, requesting them to send five delegates each to the convention.

The convention assembled June 30, 1881. Twenty-nine delegates were present, representing six Alphas and six other chapters. It was there Resolved that a delegate be sent by each chapter to a convention to be held in the Council-room of the University of the City of New York on the 18th day of October of that year, such committee when thus assembled to constitute the National Council of the Phi Beta Kappa Society. It was also resolved that a committee of ten be appointed to draw up a project of a constitution for the said National Council, and to prepare such other material for deliberation as should suggest itself to the Committee.

The committee met as directed in October. The draft of the proposed constitution was offered by the Committee, and after much discussion and many amendments was adopted as a whole.

The first meeting of the National council thus established was held at Saratoga, September 5, 1883. The constitution was ratified by Bowdoin, Harvard, Dartmouth, Union, University of Vermont, Trinity, Amherst, Wesleyan, Williams, College of the City of New York, Columbia, Hamilton, Hobart, Middlebury, University of the City of New York, and Kenyon.

At the second council, September 1, 1886, the constitution was ratified by Yale and Cornell, and charters were granted Rochester, Dickinson, and Lehigh.

At the third council, September 4, 1889, the constitution was ratified by Rutgers, and charters were granted to Lafayette, De Pauw, Kansas, and Northwestern.

At the fourth council, September 7, 1892, charters were granted Tufts, Minnesota, and Pennsylvania.

At the fifth council, September 11, 1895, the constitution was ratified by Brown, Western Reserve, Marietta, and William and Mary. Charters were granted Swarthmore, Iowa, Nebraska, Colby, Syracuse, and Johns Hopkins.

At the sixth council, September 7, 1898, charters were granted Boston, California, Chicago, Cincinnati, Haverford, Princeton, St. Lawrence, Vassar, Wabash, and Wisconsin.

At the seventh council September 12, 1901, charters were granted Allegheny, Missouri, and Vanderbilt.

At the eighth council, September 7, 1904, charters were granted Smith, Wellesley, Mount Holyoke, Leland Stanford, Jr., North Carolina, Texas, University of Colorado, Colorado College, Ohio State University, and Woman's College of Baltimore.

At the ninth triennial council, September 12, 1907, charters were granted Illinois, Tulane, Virginia, Iowa College, Franklin and Marshall, Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, Michigan.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE UNITED CHAPTERS

CONSTITUTION

Article I

COMPOSITION OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL

The National Council of the Phi Beta Kappa Society shall consist of the Senators hereinafter spoken of, and of delegates from the several Chapters of the Society. Each Chapter shall be entitled to send three delegates, who shall be graduates of at least five years' standing and members of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, but not necessarily of the Chapter by which they are chosen.

Article II

THE SENATE

The Senate shall originally consist of twenty Senators, chosen by the delegates of the first session of the National Council, from the Society at large. These shall be divided into two classes, whose terms of office shall expire at the adjournment of alternate regular sessions of the National Council. At every subsequent regular session the places of the outgoing class shall be filled by election as follows: On the day preceding the first day of each regular session of the National Council, the Senate shall meet, and shall nominate fifteen candidates in addition to the members of the outgoing class for the ten vacant seats, and also two candidates for the unexpired term of each Senator who may have died or resigned since the last regular session. Other persons not nominated by the Senate may be presented as candidates at the time of the election. Of every ten members whose term of office shall expire, one may be elected by the Council Senator for life. In every election of Senators a majority of the votes cast shall be required to elect, and in such elections the outgoing Senators shall have no vote. The Senate may fill vacancies in its own body till the next meeting of the National Council.

Article III

OFFICERS OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL

The officers of the National Council shall be a President, a Vice President, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, and such others as may be found necessary from time to time. The President shall be chosen from among the Senators.

Article IV

SESSIONS AND FUNCTIONS OF THE COUNCIL

The National Council shall meet every third year at such place and time as shall have been determined by the officers of the United Chapters, and shall proceed at once to the election first of its officers and next of the Senators. The National Council shall make such rules as may be found necessary for the carrying out of any provision of this Constitution.

Article V

THE SENATE AND ITS FUNCTIONS

During the sessions of the National Council the Senate shall have no separate existence, but its members shall take their places with the delegates as members of the National Council, voting with the delegates, as well upon all other matters as upon the election of officers and Senators, except as provided in Article II. When the National Council is not in session the Senate shall constitute an independent body, charged with the duty of representing the Phi Beta Kappa Society and speaking in its name, and exercising, in addition, the functions of a permanent Executive Committee of the National Council.

It shall hold its meetings at such times and places as it shall determine, being first called together by that Senator who at the original election of the Senate shall have been elected by the largest number of votes. It shall recommend candidates for election as Senators. It shall also have power to call an extra session of the National Council. It shall furthermore prepare and recommend to the consideration of the National Council such matters as it may deem proper. It shall transmit its lists of candidates and of matters recommended for discussion, by the hands of the Secretary, to the presiding officer of the National Council, immediately upon its organization being completed. It shall also transmit, in the same manner, to the National Council a report of its doings between the sessions of the Council. Nothing herein shall be so construed as to derogate from the right of the National Council to appoint committees to sit between sessions, independently of the Senate, and to report at the next session.

Article VI

NEW CHARTERS

Applications for charters shall in all cases be made to the Senate at least six months before the regular session of the National Council; the Senate shall at once notify all the Chapters of such applications, and such applications shall be reported to the National Council, with the recommendation of the Senate, at the next meeting of the Council, and shall be passed upon by the Council, which shall have exclusive power to grant charters. But no charters shall be issued without the consent of delegations representing the majority of the Chapters.

Article VII

BY-LAWS AND RULES OF ORDER

The National Council, at any of its sessions, and the Senate, at any time, may respectively make such by-laws and rules of order as may be thought expedient for their use, provided the same be not inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Constitution. A quorum of the National Council shall consist of delegates from a majority of the Chapters, and not fewer than three Senators; the Senate shall determine the number which shall constitute its quorum. (The present number is five.)

Article VIII

RIGHTS OF CHAPTERS

Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed as empowering the Senate or the National Council to restrict or abridge the rights or privileges now exercised by existing Chapters, except as expressly provided herein.

Article IX

AMENDMENTS TO THIS CONSTITUTION

No change shall be made in this Constitution unless the same shall have been proposed at the session of the National Council next preceding the session at which the proposed change is voted for; and no vote shall be had upon any such proposed change except at a stated hour previously ordered by the meeting; and no amendment shall be made without the concurrence of the delegations of two-thirds of the Chapters represented in the Council.

Article X

ADOPTION OF THE CONSTITUTION

This Constitution shall take effect when ratified by fourteen Chapters. (Sixteen Chapters ratified it before July, 1883.)

BY-LAWS

I

ELECTIONS AND OFFICERS

All elections shall be by ballot. The President shall preside over the meetings of the Council. In his absence the Vice-President shall perform his duties. When both are absent a President pro tempore shall be chosen viva voce. The Secretary shall keep the records of the Council, conduct its correspondence, and send to the Senate and to each Chapter a certified report of the proceedings of each session. The Treasurer shall collect and disburse all funds of the Council, and report at each session thereof. (At the Council of 1892, the Treasurer requested that the financial report be submitted to an auditor appointed by the President after its presentation.)

II

ORDER OF BUSINESS

1. Calling the roll.
2. Reading the minutes.
3. Reports of officers.
4. Communication from the Senate on Nominations.
5. Election of officers.
6. Election of Senators.
7. Communication from the Senate on new Chapters and other matters.
8. Miscellaneous business.

III

VOTING

In all cases not otherwise provided for by the Constitution, each Senator and delegate present shall be entitled to cast one vote. (In establishing new Chapters the Constitution requires a vote by delegations, each delegation having one vote.)

IV

ASSESSMENTS

Each Chapter shall pay to the Treasurer a triennial assessment of five dollars. (The Council of 1883 voted that the first assessment should be due in 1884, each successive assessment becoming due in periods of three years from that time, 1887, 1890, 1893, 1896, and so on.)

PROCEDURE

The proceedings of the Council, in all cases not provided for in the Constitution or the by-laws, shall conform to the rules laid down in Cushing's Manual.

VI

INDORSEMENT OF NEW CHAPTERS

All applications for future Chapters shall have the indorsement of at least five existing Chapters prior to presentation to the Senate.

VII

AMENDMENTS

These by-laws, or any of them, may be suspended, altered, or amended at any meeting of the Council by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Council present and voting.

THE ALPHA OF MISSOURI.

In November 1899, Prof. Raymond Weeks began correspondence with the General Secretary of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, looking towards the establishment of a chapter of that fraternity at the University of Missouri.

It was found that there was a considerable number of men connected with the University who were already members of various chapters. A meeting of these men was held at the house of Prof. Weeks in May, 1900, to concert upon a plan of action.

After due correspondence, an application for a charter was approved by the following chapters: William and Mary, Harvard, Dartmouth, Western Reserve, Iowa conditionally and Nebraska.

The application with the approval of these chapters, was sent to the United Chapters, February 18, 1901. The names signed to the application were Gardiner Lathrop, Raymond Weeks, John Pickard, James Thayer Gerould, Ida Breckenridge Ellwood, Henry Marvin Belden, George Lefevre, Charles Wilson Greene, Charles Berry Newcomer, Frank Thilly, Philip Sanford Goulding, Brayton H. Ransom.

This application was acted upon favorably by the Senate of the United Chapters at Saratoga on March 2, 1901, and the charter was granted by the National Council at their session at Saratoga on Sept. 12, 1901.

The first meeting of the new chapter, the Alpha of Missouri, was held at the house of Prof. Weeks on Founders' Day, December 5, 1901. The following members were present: Raymond Weeks, H. M. Belden, W. C. Curtis, George Lefevre, C. W. Greene, Frank Thilly.

The charter was opened in the presence of these members. The chapter was then declared established. A committee of which Prof. Weeks was chairman was appointed to draft a constitution.

Brethren of the Phi Beta Kappa—GREETING:

WHEREAS the National Council of the United Chapters of the Phi Beta Kappa Society has by resolution duly adopted on the 12th day of September, 1901, decreed the establishment of a Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa in connection with the University of the State of Missouri at Columbia, Missouri, and has directed the Senate by the President and Secretary to issue a charter in the name of the National Council:—Now, therefore, by virtue of the aforesaid act of the Council and the authority delegated to us, we do hereby incorporate and establish you and such others as you may hereafter elect and associate with yourselves, in conformity to the law of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, into a separate and subordinate branch of said society to be known and called the Alpha Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa in the state of Missouri; hereby granting unto you and your successors all the powers, privileges, and benefits thereunto appertaining, in as full and ample a measure as the brethren of the other and existing chapters enjoy; at the same time enjoining upon you in the organization and conduct of the new chapter, and as a condition upon which this charter is granted, strict compliance with the Constitution of the United Chapters and the Model Constitution herewith transmitted to you.

In witness whereof the said Senate has caused the seal of the United Chapters of the Phi Beta Kappa to be affixed hereto, with the signatures of the President and the Secretary.

(Signed)

J. A. DE REMER, President.

OSCAR M. VOORHEES, Secretary.

(SEAL)

Pursuant to a call by Dr. Raymond Weeks, chairman of the committee on constitution, a meeting was held in the Council Room of the University on March 19, 1902.

Those present were: Drs. Weeks, Thilly, Lefevre, Greene, Belden, Curtis, and Mr. Gerould.

The committee on constitution presented its report.

CONSTITUTION OF THE MISSOURI ALPHA

Name                    Article 1. This chapter is one of the co-ordinate branches of the body known as the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, and shall be called the Alpha Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society in the State of Missouri. The seat of this chapter shall be at Columbia.

Object                Article 2. The object of the Phi Beta Kappa Society is the promotion of scholarship and of good fellowship among the students and graduates of American colleges.

Government of the Society            Article 3. The government of this chapter shall be in accord with the constitution of the United Chapters of the Phi Beta Kappa with such by-laws as are hereinafter specified.

Duty of the Chapter Toward the National Council            Article 4. This chapter shall conform to the constitution of the United Chapters and to the requirements of the National Council, and shall contribute its due share to the support of the United Chapters. Whenever possible this chapter shall send a delegate to the sessions of the National Council.

Officers                Article 5. The officers of this chapter shall be a President, a Vice-President and a Secretary and Treasurer. These officers shall serve one year or until their successors are elected. All of the above officers, save the President, must be chosen from the members resident in Columbia.
In addition to the above officers there shall be a standing committee of three who shall pass on all nominations for honorary membership as hereinafter provided.

AMENDMENT JUNE 2, 1908

The second sentence shall read: These officers shall serve for one year or until their successors are elected and elections shall take place at the Founders' Day meeting.

Duties
of the President

Article 6. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at the meetings and to preserve order to the best of his ability; to welcome the newly elected members in a manner hereinafter provided; to preside at the annual dinner, and there to carve, in the eye of the assembled chapter, the annual pudding, or its substitute.

Duties
of the Vice-President

Article 7. It shall be the duty of the Vice-President to take the place of the President during his absence and to fulfil his functions to the best of his ability.

Duties
Secretary

Article 8. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep the records of the chapter in as complete a form as possible; to keep a list of all members of the chapter, with their addresses; to see to it that the records are kept in a safe place, protected from fire and thieves or other malevolent persons; to call meetings at stated intervals or at the request of officers or members; to obtain from the Registrar the Rank lists as hereinafter provided, and to lay them before the chapter in regular session.

The Secretary shall be active and full of expedients for the welfare of the Society.

As Treasurer, the Secretary shall receive, expend, keep and invest all funds belonging to the chapter. He shall make an accurate account annually, which shall be duly and carefully audited by a committee appointed for that purpose by the presiding officer.

AMENDMENT JUNE 2, 1903

The last sentence shall be amended to read: He shall make an accurate account annually. At the meeting of the society during the week preceding Commencement or soon thereafter the President shall appoint an auditing committee, whose duty it shall be to examine the accounts of the Treasurer and report on them at the December meeting.

Warrants for bills against the Society shall be issued only after such bills have been approved by the President or Vice-President.

Quorum

Article 9. A quorum at any regular or called meeting shall consist of ten members.

Meetings

Article 10. There shall be two annual meetings, one on Founders' Day, the fifth of December; the other during the week preceding Commencement. Special meetings may be called at the request of any of the officers or at the request of any two members. These requests shall be made to the Secretary, who shall inform the resident members of the date and purpose of the meeting.

Charter Members

Article 11. The charter members of this chapter, whose official connection with the University of Missouri is here indicated, are as follows:

Gardiner Lathrop, A. B., University of Missouri, 1867; A. B., Yale University, 1869; LL. B., Harvard University, 1873. Vice-President of the Board of Curators.

Raymond Weeks, A. B., Harvard University, 1890, A. M., ibid., 1891, Ph. D., ibid., 1897. Professor of Romance Languages.

John Pickard, A. B., Dartmouth College, 1883, A. M., ibid., 1886; Ph. D., University of Munich, 1892. Professor of Classical Archaeology and of the History of Art.

James Thayer Gerould, A. B., Dartmouth College, 1895. Librarian.

Henry Marvin Belden, A. B., Trinity College, 1888; Ph. D., Johns Hopkins University, 1895. Assistant Professor of English.

George Lefevre, A. B., Johns Hopkins University, 1891, Ph. D., ibid., 1896. Professor of Zoology.

Charles Wilson Greene, A. B., Leland Stanford Junior University, 1892, A. M., ibid., 1893; Ph. D., Johns Hopkins University, 1898. Professor of Physiology.

Charles Berry Newcomer, A. B., University of Nebraska, 1889, A. M., ibid., 1890; Ph. D., University of Berlin, 1899. Acting Assistant Professor of Latin.

Brayton Howard Ransom, A. B., University of Nebraska; A. M., University of Missouri, 1901. Teaching Fellow in Zoology.

Frank Thilly, A. B., University of Cincinnati, 1887; Ph. D., University of Heidelberg, 1891. Professor of Philosophy.

Philip Sanford Goulding, A. B., Yale University, 1898. Head cataloguer in the Library.

Ida Breckenridge Ellwood, A. B., Middlebury College, 1895, wife of Charles A. Ellwood, Professor of Sociology.

Chapter, of whom Composed

Article 12. This chapter shall consist of the above named charter members, and of graduate, organization, regular and honorary members as hereinafter provided.

AMENDMENT JUNE 2, 1903

All persons elected to membership in this society shall qualify by signifying their acceptance and by paying their initiation fee within one year from the date of their election, or otherwise they shall be disqualified for membership except on re-election.

Graduate
Members

Article 13. Graduate members shall be such persons as have received an election to Phi Beta Kappa, either here or elsewhere, and are connected with this University as teachers, officials or graduate students, or are residents of Columbia.

Organization
Members

Article 14. Organization members shall be such graduates, or holders of honorary degrees of this University as shall have received an election to this chapter on or before Founders' Day, 1902.

Provided that after Founders' Day, 1902, no person shall be chosen a member of this chapter save as hereinafter provided.

Regular
Members

Article 15. Regular members shall be elected as follows from the Senior class:

On or before Founders' Day in December, the Secretary shall present to the chapter assembled the names of the five seniors, who, according to the records of the Registrar of the University are the first five students by rank in the Senior class. These students shall be welcomed into the Society on Founders' Day and shall be known as "the first five."

At some convenient time during the week preceding Commencement, the Secretary shall present to the Chapter assembled enough other names from the Senior class, taken in order according to the records of the Registrar, to make the total, together with those already chosen, one-sixth of the Senior class. The Chapter shall elect from these names in order, a number, which, taken with those already elected, shall constitute from one-seventh to one-fifteenth of the Senior class, a fraction to count as a unit. The election in all cases shall be by ballot. No one shall be elected who has not been a student of the University to the extent of two years legitimate Academic residence.

Provided, however, that the Chapter reserves the right, to reject by a three-fourths vote, any candidate either of the first five or of those subsequently presented, who during his college career has been guilty of dishonorable conduct.

In addition to the above regular members, the Chapter may within its discretion, elect out of each senior class, one or two members at large. The object of this provision is to prevent the chapter from losing the co-operation of a student of unusual powers, who by reason of sickness or for some other good and sufficient reason, has failed of election as above provided in this article.

AMENDMENT JUNE 2, 1908

After June 1, 1908, members at large may be elected from each Senior class in the College of Arts and Science, but only during the year in which it graduates from the University, and such members may be nominated by the "First Five" elected from the class, provided that one or two members at large may be elected from each of the classes graduating from the College of Arts and Science between the year in which this Chapter was instituted and the year 1908.

All members of this Chapter from the classes concerned in this retroactive election of members at large shall be asked to make nominations for members at large from their respective classes.

Honorary
Members

Article 16. Nominations of persons not already members of Phi Beta Kappa, who are eminent in Arts, Science, or Public Service may be presented to the Secretary, who shall refer these names to the Committee on Honorary Members. This committee shall report on these names at the annual business meeting preceding Commencement. A three-fourths majority of all members present at this meeting shall be necessary to election.

Honorary members shall enjoy all the rights and privileges of other members.

Fee

Article 17. The fee for membership shall be five dollars, payable once for all. This fee shall be paid by all members, except graduate members, as provided in Article 13, the Chapter reserving, however, the privilege of remitting it by unanimous vote. Provided, however, that in the case of an Honorary member, the fee may be remitted within the discretion of the Chapter, by a three-fourths vote.

Article 18. All voting for the election of Ballot members shall be by secret ballot.

Article 19. The ceremony of initiation of Ceremony of Initiation new members shall be as follows: The candidates shall be shown in in a body and the President, or, in his absence, the next highest officer, shall state briefly and simply the history and purpose of the society. He shall close his allocution with the following statement, which he shall read:

"In accordance with our custom and with the requirements of our constitution, I shall now read to you the names of some of the illustrious citizens of this Republic who have been members of Phi Beta Kappa, believing that this, better than any words, will show you into what a glorious brotherhood you are this day to be welcomed.

John Marshall, Chief Justice of the United States; Bushrod Washington, nephew of the first President of the Republic; John Quincy Adams, Statesman, President of the United States; William Cullen Bryant, Poet and Editor; James Monroe, Statesman, President of the United States; Edward Everett, Orator and Statesman; Joseph Story, Jurist; Franklin Pierce, Statesman, President of the United States; Ralph Waldo Emerson, Poet and Philosopher; Daniel Webster, Statesman; John Lothrop Motley, Historian; Nathaniel Hawthorne, man of letters; Rufus Choate, Orator and Advocate; Charles Sumner, Statesman; Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Poet; James Russell Lowell, Poet and Diplomat; James Abram Garfield, Soldier and

Statesman, President of the United States; Oliver Wendell Holmes, Poet and Wit; Chester A. Arthur, Soldier and Statesman, President of the United States; Phillips Brooks, Preacher and Orator; John Fiske, Historian and Philosopher; Theodore Roosevelt, Statesman, President of the United States."

The President shall then extend the right hand of fellowship to the newly elected members. Names may be added to or taken away from the above list of distinguished members of Phi Beta Kappa by a three-fourths majority at any regular meeting.

AMENDMENT JUNE 2, 1903

The first sentence of the article shall read: "If the presiding officer shall approve the ceremony of initiation shall be as follows:"

Amendments

Article 20. Amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws must be proposed in writing at one of the semi-annual meetings and cannot be acted upon until the next semi-annual meeting. A three-fourths majority shall be necessary to carry a proposed amendment.
